THE LOG

1934
PUBLISHED BY THE SENIOR CLASS OF SHORE HIGH SCHOOL 1934 EUCLID, OHIO
Standing out from simple but appropriate surroundings, Shore represents a symbol of modern youth and education. New wings have been added to the building from year to year. The school has developed from a small village school to one of city rank since the enrollment has increased from a few hundred to over one thousand in only a short space of time.

A Shore student can well speak with pride of his school. Quoting from an inscription in the auditorium, what can be more significant than to say that our school is dedicated to "the youth of this city for the development of mind and body." What more can be said?
SUPERINTENDENT W. A. Franks, in his fourteen years of connection with Euclid Public Schools, has worked unceasingly for their advancement. In cooperation with him, Mr. D. E. Metts, during his sixteen years as our principal, has maintained the reputation of being a true friend to all who have needed his advice. Shore owes much to Mr. Franks and Mr. Metts.

Philomena Vidugeris is in charge of stenographic work, Mrs. Crampton is in charge of school records, and Marian Moffett assists in miscellaneous routine.

THE Student Council throughout this year has sponsored the hall-guard system, monitor duty in the cafeteria, noon-hour dancing in the gym, and the selling of tickets for a number of the school affairs.

It has also become a member of the Inter-School Council which meets every two weeks downtown. Shore has sent representatives regularly to those meetings.

Gradually the Student Council is getting more responsibilities placed on its shoulders. It gains in importance every year.

IN MEMORIAM
ALLAN KOONS
1916-1933
With Miss Becington as director, Shore’s boy’s and girl’s Glee Clubs have increased to the approximate number of one hundred and thirty. They sang at the commencements and at Gala Nite. Then, of course, the girls participated in the candlelight ceremony at Christmas. However, the feature of the year was the delightful operetta, “Pickles” or “In Old Vienna.” The three seniors who had leads were:

Henry Picozzi.....Jigo, a Hungarian Gypsy King.

Dorothy Pardey.....Lady Vivian Delanecy, a charming English widow.

Helen Horwitz......A gypsy woman

While our school enrollment has been increasing, the orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Beck, has added many new members. It has played selections at Gala Nite, Commencement exercises, Senior plays, and it has accompanied the operetta.
The Log

The Shore Breeze, a student publication which is issued weekly by the staff members, has kept up to the minute on school news and activities. Under the able direction of Mr. Banner, the new sponsor, the staff has worked together to keep the paper out of the red and has succeeded admirably.

Because several new positions have been added to the staff the journalism students have been given more opportunities and experience in reporting.

"A friend in need is a friend indeed." This statement symbolizes the Friendship Club of Shore.

Throughout the hard winter, they have helped others in numerous ways. The giving of Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets heads the list of their good deeds.

One can never be happy if he has no friends. The Friendship Club is trying to make everyone happy. Through it the girls become acquainted, and are very happy here at Shore.

Under the direction of Miss Gill, the Leader’s Club has progressed smoothly. The club is composed of twenty-five members who are Juniors or Seniors.

Their special enterprise this year has been the supervision of the girls’ intra-mural basketball games. For each game certain girls are appointed to take charge of the scoring and time-keeping.
Under the expert guidance of Coach Ford L. Case, the Shore basketball team captured its second Eastern Conference championship in three years. Defeating team after team by overwhelming scores, the varsity won the coveted title, losing but one conference game which was the game with Maple Heights.

Seeking new laurels, Shore journeyed to Akron to compete in the Northern Ohio Tournament, against the best teams of this district. Here they were finally defeated but not until they had secured recognition by beating two of the strongest teams and gaining the semi-finals.

Shore started the season with a veteran quintet composed of Riebe and Brown, forwards, Palko and Wick, guards, and Weinschreider, center. Captain Wick and Brown were lost to the team at midyear by graduation, but their places were filled by two capable men, Al Nason and Willard Riebe. Jim Palko was chosen to succeed Wick as captain.

No player can be given special mention without including the rest of his teammates.

Art Brown was the spark plug of the team. Whenever a player became tired or discouraged, Art was always ready with a word of encouragement to put him back on his feet.

Chuck Wick directed the team. Always cool and confident, Chuck was the perfect captain.

Melvin Riebe proved that size is no handicap to a basketball player. His accurate shooting was one of the main reasons for the team's successful season. Melvin compiled 140 points in 15 games for a new school record of individual scoring.

Richard Weinschreider was a silent but important cog in Shore's machine. Dick will be back next year.

Melvin Riebe and Dick Weinschreider were chosen on the All-Conference team by the Bedford-News-Register.

Jim Palko took his basketball seriously. Always eager to play, Shore will be indeed lucky to find another player like Jim who seemed to play best in the toughest games.

Al Nason played his first year on the varsity. For clean, hard playing Al will be hard to equal.

Willard Riebe still has another year of basketball. Although he played but half a year, Willard scored fifty-four points for Shore.

Jim Mattie proved valuable all year with his ability to play either guard position.
Shore’s Football Team of "33"

SHORE’S 1933 football team had one of the most successful seasons in the history of the school. Playing a hard schedule of nine games, the Admirals won 7, tied 1, and lost 1. Shaker was the only team that outpointed Shore. Mr. Case started the season with only six lettermen on his squad. He took the inexperienced boys and made a team that was hard to beat.

This is the first time that Mr. Case has had full charge of the football team, and he deserves a lot of credit for the fine showing that his boys made.

Shore loses ten players from the first team due to graduation this year. The boys who are going to graduate are:

Arthur Brown, 5'7" tall, weighs 150 pounds and played halfback. Played for two years on the varsity and was co-captain in his senior year.

Robert Covert was 5'10" tall and weighed 184 pounds. Bob was a varsity man for two years as a tackle and he was co-captain in his last year.

Dick Finan weighed 190 pounds and was 6'1" tall. He played tackle on the varsity for three years.

Rudolph Matko played guard on the first team for one year. He weighed 160 pounds and was 5'7" tall.

Albert Nason was an end on the first team for two years. Al was 6' tall and he tipped the scales at 170 pounds.

Rudolph Nosse was 5'8" tall and weighed 140 pounds. Rudy played guard for one year.

James Palko played the fullback position for two years. He weighed 170 pounds and he was 5'10" tall.

Claude (Buster to you) Stewart called signals from the quarterback position for two years. “Bus” was 5'9" tall and weighed 154 pounds.

Charles Wick was a one-year man who played end. He was 5'11" tall and weighed 185 pounds.

John Yoger was the smallest and fastest man on the team. He weighed 135 pounds and he was 5'7" tall.

Mr. Case is going to find it pretty hard to fill the ten pairs of shoes that these boys leave unoccupied, but he is used to hard jobs and every one is sure that next year's team will be as good as this year's was.
WRESTLING is a comparatively new sport at Shore. Four years ago Shore’s first mat team met with indifferent success. Last year our wrestlers tied for the league championship, while this year they were high point winners at the Eastern Conference Championship meet.

Four lettermen reported for practice at the beginning of the season, Joe Hohl 115, John Yoger 122, Rudy Nosse 135, and Captain Don Dixon 140. The first meet at University School was a critical test, as six men were wrestling their first match for Shore. The result was a tie, but Coach Pohto, by making a few important changes, was able to present a more formidable team for the next match with Garfield Heights. The able coaching of Mr. Pohto was shown when two of the new men came through with falls to give Shore their margin of victory.

FOLLOWING a successful basketball campaign, the track team started intensive practice for the many meets in its schedule. Coach Case plans to take the more promising stars to such notable contests as are annually held in Mansfield and Athens—and to the one at Columbus if any of his “thinly clad” place in the district meet.
The team developed rapidly for the Conference meet, losing but one match, to John Hay. Shore’s last year co-champions. Fighting hard to retain their hold on the title, Shore surprised their opponents by capturing the championship with twenty points. Four wrestlers won their matches and qualified for the city finals. Joe Hohl 105, Jimmy Fowler 115, Don Dixon 135, and Earl Bollenbacher 165. Although Shore failed to win the city championship, they made an excellent showing against the stronger schools with which they were competing. Joe Hohl won the city championship in his division and was awarded a gold medal. Captain Don Dixon was runner up in his class, receiving a silver medal, while Earl Bollenbacher won a ribbon for taking third place in the 165-lb. class.

Seven lettermen will be lost by graduation, all of whom deserve special mention for their good work.

Joe Hohl finished his third year of wrestling by becoming the third city champion from Shore. Two years ago Joe won the Silver Medal in his class. He was also high point man at Shore for three years. He had earned 105½ points in that time.

John Yoger was a versatile athlete. His prowess on the mat was equalled in all his other activities.

Bob Daw won his first letter in wrestling this year. Bob wrestled his best in every match and usually came out on top.

Rudy Nosse was the only four-year man on the team. Injuries kept Rudy from winning the medal which he deserved.

Capt. Don Dixon won the City Ribbon two years ago and finished his wrestling career by winning the silver medal this year.

Henry Picozzi wrestled his first year for Shore. His record is proof of his ability.

George Miller was the strong man of the team. His record time of 37 seconds will set an example for next year’s team.

Jimmy Fowler, Earl Bollenbacher, and Benson Blackie are lettermen who will return next year. With wrestlers like these, Shore is sure to be represented by a winning team.

Senior Year Book Staff

THE Year Book has been compiled under the competent direction of Miss Michell, the business, art, and photographic director, and Miss Vernon, the literary adviser.

Around and About SHORE
When You and I Were Young
June Class Will

We, the Senior class of 1934, do hope to convince the public that our class is sane in mind and body.

We bequeath our talent and ability to whosoever may benefit from them.
1. Betty Aeker leaves her sophisticated mannerisms to “Midge”Hora.
2. Daniel Amidieh leaves his scientific experiments to next year’s chemistry students.
3. Marcia Ahlman leaves her piano playing ability to Mr. Spangler.
5. Walter Baker leaves his track letter to any sweet young thing who wishes it.
6. Gordon and Russell Baldwin leave their true brotherly love to the Shaughnessey boys.
7. Bob Bandlow leaves his brilliancy to his sister, Betty.
8. Frank Bauer leaves his red hair and freckles to Janet Nason.
9. Bernice Berner leaves her position as art editor of the school paper to Ken Sabine.
10. Edward Bozman leaves a completely filled notebook of absence slips to Bill Dill, hoping they can be of use.
11. Louis Bueur leaves those engrossing novels to Miss Falberg.
12. Lillian Bouver leaves with the rest of the Alpha-Z’s.
13. Betty Ann Camplejohn leaves her editorship to Margaret Ray. (Who will be the Business Manager?)
14. John Cerjan leaves the feminine element at Shore weeping.
15. Marian Chapman—her petiteness to Dorothy Moffett.
17. George Coghill leaves his blond complexion to Alvira Patti.
18. John Clymer leaves his shyness to Clyde Steele.
19. Walter Conrad leaves his track ability to Vincent Gracious.
20. Harry Davis leaves his morning walk to Mr. Philips.
21. Donald Dixon leaves Betty Pleis, but not for long.
22. LeRoy Dixon leaves his model T. Ford to Mr. Whiteside.
23. Marjorie Easterling leaves her long tresses to Doris Brown.
24. Betty Eugene leaves her gift of gab to John Warren.
25. Edward Franks leaves his red hair to the admiring freshmen females.
26. Frank Gerjevic leaves all his class notes in one of the desks in 241.
27. Ellen Giles leaves her neat appearance to Dick Lynch.
29. Robert Wall leaves his singing ability to Floyd Overaere.
30. Lodo Habrle leaves his well-slicked hair to Bill Webster.
31. Robert Hill leaves his acting ability to Melvin Andree.
32. Mary Hoele leaves her sister to the wiles of Shore boys.
33. Jane Hoffman leaves her ear to Luieille Jermain for future basketball games.
34. Joe Hohl leaves his stature to Dick Weinschreider.
35. Helen Horwitz leaves her infectious giggle to Mr. Bullard.
36. Mae Jehlicka leaves her figure to Betty Loranger.
37. Eleanor Keller leaves her lively personality to Mr. Phillips.
38. Marshall Kenny reluctantly leaves his ability as an actor to future Shorites interested in plays. (Continued on page 30)
June Class Prophecy

Reading the latest best seller "Famous Fables of 1850," by Betty Acker, I sat in the lounging chair aboard a round-the-world Krzmarich Air Liner. Television, rudely interrupting, revealed Lodo Habrle, the president of the largest coal company in the world. He was advertising synthetic coal developed by Ed Pergler, Harry Davis, and Daniel Amidich.

After glancing through a review of Josephine White and Bertil Swenson, the famous dancing partners, I went to lunch in the rear of the liner. Imagine my surprise when I saw Elizabeth Woodward as hostess and Walter Baker as chief steward. Well, anything can happen. Elizabeth, who had just received a letter from Frances Anderson and Marjorie Easterling, said they were in Pueblo trying to teach French to the Mexican children. I was also surprised to hear that Helen Horwitz, the "It" girl of the Screen, had just arrived in Reno to get a divorce from John Clymer (on the grounds of usurping her pet slang).

When I was almost through lunch, Ed Sutorius, accompanied by Alice Neiser, entered the diner. Just in case you haven’t heard, Alice is writing the weekly speeches of President Picozzi. U. S., while Ed is delivering them. We discussed the present Palko Communist Movement in Russia, as well as the breach in the Democratic party, the one faction being led by Joe Hohl, the other by George Miller.

Then Ed told me an amusing incident of Mrs. Palko (nee E. Keller) who had a sprained wrist from spanking the children for trying to play basket ball in the house. The next item of interest and surprise was that Bernice Berner, who was painting oil portraits for her Rogues Gallery, had a picture of Lenore Oberst, Mary Hoene, Alfred Nason, Betty Eugene, June Whitcomb, and Everett Pepin. Quite a collection, eh? Joe Waterwash and John Yoger, President and Vice President of the Metropolitan Opera Company, had been trying to get Dorthy Pardey and Marcia Ahlman to sign contracts.

Next I decided to go into the recreation room where I heard the sweet strains of Ed Frank’s violin, and heard Frank Gerjevic, comedian, advertising Dixon and Dixon’s Coffee. Then I saw a slow Motion Picture of Melvin Reibe playing basketball, and one of Joe Tekavic and John Zivic playing baseball. The news reel showed Betty Ann Camplejohn in England trying to get an interview with James Cliffel, winner of the Rhodes Scholarships, and with George Coghill, U. S. Ambassador to England.

Edith Leathers, Dean of an advanced Business School, was teaching Theda Thorne how to study. Margaret Ketchion and Louise Kruser, who came through the recreation room, were modeling clothes designed by Amelia Setina and Pearl Stray. Not far away, Ed Bozman, a member of the Ohio Board of Movie Censors, sat dreamily watching the Follies Girls impersonated by Mary McEllhathan, Marian Chapman, and Lillian Bukovic.

As our plane arrived at its destination, Euclid Air Port, Louis Bucar, selling the "Ritts Reporter", came aboard crying, "Miss Wasel sues the wife (Celia Vojsak) of Judge Kenny." Then I noticed Dorothy Vogelsang, the traveling companion of the wealthy Lucy Parenti, boarding a private airplane.

While I was leaving the grounds, I was confronted by John Cerjan, the mayor under the military escort of Bill Grove and Frank Bauer. I walked with them as far as Moss Point where I saw Paul Goryanes, the druggist, who said Jane Hoffman and Walter Conrad were vying with each other for swimming championship. I passed Baldwin Brothers “Dine and Dance” where Anton Laurich was the cook. Across the street Bob Bandlow, the tonsorial artist, was working on Bob Hill.

Mid-Year Class Prophecy

Extracts from my diary:

January 15, 1955
Up at sunrise to attend an Orthodox Protestant Church, where, much to my surprise, I found Ehner Cameron in the pulpit.

January 16, 1955
Decided to visit the city jail to gather information for a newspaper article. All needed information was granted me by the notorious gang leader Rudolph Matko.

February 1, 1955
Following the advice of a friend, I went to see a doctor about a mental examination. At the office I was greeted kindly by an old classmate, Miss Ella Mae Joslin. Don’t misunderstand me—she was not the doctor but a doctor had conquered her fear so completely that she was no longer “Miss” but Mrs. Milton Wolfe.

February 15, 1955
Received a letter from Miss Eleanor McMillan who was in Africa serving as missionary. I might add that Bud Keller was in Africa too.

March 3, 1955
Visited an old-maids home where I was conducted by Ruth Lace, the manager, to the reception room. The group presented a pathetic sight. Among them I sighted Misses Verna Peterson and Lila Barlag. They had settled down to a state of single blessedness and, as each had a pet cat, I concluded they had lost all hopes.

April 7, 1955
Taking an afternoon walk I was startled by the high-pitched voices of two women. Turning, I recognized Maxine Nelson and Angeline Novesky, two neighbors, having a few words with each other. As I understood it, Maxine Jr. had taken little Angeline’s doll and then the feud began.

April 30, 1955
Went to see the new movie starring Mabel Isaacs who, after the decline of Zasu Pitts, met success. Homeward bound I stopped into the meat market of Stewart & Stewart. The store presented an atmosphere of “before and behind” —that is Duane was before the register and Buster was behind the meat counter.

May 19, 1955
About 12 M. the mailman, Harold Olson, handed me three letters. One was from Bob Yochim, who was in Alaska vacationing with the better half of the family—that is La Verne Berghlund. The second was from Norman Jack, who is engineering in Russia. He writes that he will soon be returning with a muscular Russian lass. The third letter was from the Farley girls, who were in Ireland on the lookout for two pairs of “smiling Irish eyes.”

June 4, 1955
Decided to visit the old high school. Saw Miss Aingworth teaching the twin daughters of a former Shore Valedictorian—Ann Hrovat.

July 21, 1955
Visited the home of a widow, the former Virginia Pearson but found that I was not wanted since Dick Finan, the funeral director, was there.

Mid-Year Class Will

We, the class of 1934, in 34 individual and distinct parts, being about to pass out of this sphere of education in full possession of a crammed mind, do make and publish this last will and testament.

Those things which it has pleased Fate and our own hands to win for us, we do dispose of as follows:

The class as a whole—our whole-hearted appreciation to our beloved sponsor, Miss Aingworth.
Lila Barlag—her walk to Marian Chapman
La Verne Berglund—her sedate air to Ray Shaughnessey.
Betty Binkley—her sophistication to Midge Hora
Art Brown—his pleasing personality to Betty Bandlow
Elmer Cameron—his refusal to part with his June Rose
Margaret & Catherine Farley—their ability to get names mixed up by everyone, to Jean & Bud Rath
Dick Finan—his height to Margaret Ray
Mike Hadlyk—his ability to blush to Bob Covert
Roy Hein—his list of absence excuses to whosoever gets to him first
Anna Hrovat—her book-keeping ability to Mildred Richman.
Mabel Isaacs—her talkativeness to Edward Sutorius
Norman Jack—his dancing ability to Edward Pergler
Ella Mae Joslin—her long black locks to Bob Bandlow
Bud Keller—his manly form to Margie Webster
Sylvia Krampel—her “Hillbilly Boys” to Louise Kruser
Ruth Lace—her demureness to Eleanor Keller
Frank Miese—his saxophone to Marcia Ahlman
Esther Mennier—her artistic ability to James Palko
Rudolph Matko—his brilliance to Theda Thorne
Eleanor McMillan—her combination of beauty and brains to Jack Stewart
Maxine Nelson—her quietness to Clyde Steele.
Angelina Noveske—all her homework to the faculty
Harold Olson—his managership of the football team to whoever can run the fastest with a bucket of water
Verna Peterson—her childishness and giggles to Mr. Pohto
Amelia Shimrock—her ability to plan programs to the members of the next senior class
Buster Stewart—his way with the women to Art Disanto.
Duane Stewart—his athletic ability to Dorothy Pardey
Earl Stick—his place on the wrestling team to Betty Ann Camplejohn
Milton Wolfe—his stuttering to Mr. Whiteside
Bob Yochim—his fetching grin to Russell Baldwin

Being rather tired after my long trip, I inquired where there was a good hotel. I was informed that the Nosse Tavern had a very good reputation. I hailed a taxi driven by Betty Stein. Jean Perry, the treasurer, asked me to pay my bill in advance. Then she summoned Ruth Miller, the bell girl, to escort me to my room where I spent a delightful evening reminiscing.
39. Margaret Ketchion leaves her mischievous manner to Doris Weir.
40. Louise Kruser leaves a book on “School Dress and Manners” to the library.
41. Rudolph Krzmarich leaves that tongue twisting name of his to John Ink.
42. Anton Laurich leaves his height to Betty Cochran.
43. Edith Leathers leaves her typing table fully supplied with gum for her successor.
44. Mary McElhattan leaves her quietness to John Buerkel and Earl Bollenbacker. They may fight over this to their heart’s content.
46. George Miller leaves his deep voice to Florence Felker.
47. Ruth Miller wills her quietness to Joe Hoislbauer.
48. Al Nason, after much thought, leaves his athletic prowess to George Wilson.
49. Alice Neiser wills her elocutionary powers to Grace Gehring.
50. Rudolph Nosse says he has nothing much to leave, but if there is anything, George Weber can have it.
51. Lenore Oberst—her social duties to Barbara Blase.
52. Jack Overacre leaves his saxophone to Mr. Whiteside for a physics experiment.
53. Jim Palko—a framed picture to Miss Cockerill for her memory book.
54. Lucy Parenti wills her basketball ability to Mary McKee.
55. Dorothy Parley wills her smile and nimble feet to Clyde Steele.
56. Everett Pepin leaves his school books to Mr. Stray to start the furnace.
57. Edward Pergler leaves his owl-like wisdom to Ray Shaughnessy.
58. Jean Perry leaves her treasurer book to Miss Darst to straighten out.
59. Henry Picozzi—his wrestling ability to Dale Winslow.
60. Harriet Richardson leaves the school to get along as best they can.
61. Melvin Reibe leaves his basketball suit to anyone it will fit.
62. Ralph Ritts—his good nature to the teachers on Monday morning.
63. Amelia Setina—her art of vamping to Betty Fowler.
64. Betty Stein leaves her love for Latin to Marie Winch.
65. Pearl Stray wills her woman’s intuition to Mr. Polto.
66. Edward Sutorius leaves his speaking ability to anyone who needs it.
67. Bertil Swenson wills his blue eyes and blonde hair to those dissatisfied brunettes.
68. Joe Tekavic wills his history average to any future seniors in need of it.
69. Theda Thorne wills her slenderness to Betty Stewart.
70. Dorothy Vogelsang—her bashfulness to Jean Rath.
71. Celia Vojsak leaves her English themes to Miss Vernon for her entertainment and intense appreciation.
72. Adele Wasel leaves her singing talent to Ralph Moeller.
73. Joe Waterwash wills his grin to Miriam Dreher.
74. June Whitewash wills her taking ways to the freshmen. Let’s hope they appreciate them.
75. Josephine White leaves her southern drawl to Mr. Bauner.
76. Elizabeth Woodard leaves her scholastic record to Helen Doyle.
77. Fred Yeip gladly leaves his twin brothers still in school.
78. John Yoger and John Zivich will their fund of knowledge to astound the best of the Shore Students.

[ 30 ]
It was our privilege to co-operate with this annual board.
July 31, 1955
Walking down town this morning I bumped into Mike Hadyk and Frank Miese, both of whom turned out to be successful business men but stayed out late and dined at the club.

August 5, 1955
Visited the Cathedral when I met Marie Zwierlien, who, disappointed in a love affair, became a nun.
This P. M. I attended a Women’s Rights Association in a large hall where Miss Esther Meunier presided. Among the members I recognized Sylvia Krampel. The discussion was—“Shall men be allowed to vote?”

August 10, 1955
Was invited to the home of Earl Stick for dinner. My dinner was served me by Chuck Wick, a faithful employee. Earl was now one of the great money kings of the world.

September 16, 1955
Roy was the last member of the class of 1934 that I saw. The others—nevermore.
